

HomeHarmlessUsesAboutDistributorsContact

3750 ppm Azadirachtin. Labeled to control: Aphids - Army worms - Beetles - Stink bugs - Caterpillars - Leaf hoppers - Leaf miners - Whitefly - Mealy bugs - Midges - Nematodes - Spider mites - Weevils - Scale - Thrips

The Neem tree -Azadirachta Indica - is an evergreen, native to South India, that grows up to 60 ft high. It is found in the tropical dry deciduous/evergreen and thorny forests and drier parts of Uttar Pradesh, Haryana, Punjab, Himachal Pradesh, Orissa, Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Karnataka, and Tamil Nadu. It has been planted and naturalized throughout Africa and grows in Indonesia, Sri Lanka, Myanmar, Pakistan, Japan and tropical regions of Australia and America. Ancient Indian texts refer to Neem as Sarva Roga Nivari, "the curer of all ailments."

The medicinal properties of Neem have been described in ancient Indian medical texts (4000 B.C.) such as the Atharva Veda, Ghrhyasutras and the Sutrgranthas. The sanskrit name, nimba, is a derivative of the term nimbati syasthyamdadati-meaning 'to give good health'.

Literally, every part of the tree has a use. The leaf and bark are used in teas, cosmetics, skin care, pet care and medicinal preparations.

Neem twigs are used as tooth brushes and ward against gum disease.

Neem oil, which is extracted from the seed kernel is excellent for it's healing properties and is used in creams, lotions and soaps. It is also known to have insect repellent properties. In recent years the insecticidal, growth hormone regulating and anti-feedant properties of Neem oil have prompted a considerable amount of research. The United States Department of Agriculture has been studying Neem since 1972 and Neem formulations have been registered by the EPA for insecticidal use. Neem oil is also an effective fungicide.

The residue is Neem cake which is used in agriculture as a soil amendment, protecting the roots and enhancing plant growth.

There are some excellent resources for information on the various uses of neem. Some sites the Ahimsa Alternative would like to recommend are:

www.neemfoundation.org

www.groworganicapples.com/neem oil

Also, please feel free to contact The Ahimsa Alternative, Inc for more information by e-mail or by phone - 952-943-9449

or 1-877-USE-NEEM (1-877-873-6336)

Harmless to Beneficials

For Non Crop & Crop Uses

About Neem

US Distributors

Copyright 2011 - The Ahimsa Alternative, Inc.